The Honorable F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr.
Chairman, Committee on the Judiciary
House of Representatives

Subject: Federally Chartered Corporation: Review of the Financial Statement Audit Reports for the National Fallen Firefighters Foundation for 2002 and 2001

Dear Mr. Chairman:

As requested, we reviewed the audit reports covering the financial statements of the National Fallen Firefighters Foundation, a federally chartered corporation, for the years ended December 31, 2002 and 2001. The corporation’s purposes are to encourage, accept, and administer private gifts of property for the benefit of the National Fallen Firefighters’ Memorial and the associated annual memorial service; provide financial assistance to families of fallen firefighters for transportation and lodging during the annual memorial service; assist State and local efforts to recognize firefighters who die in the line of duty; and provide scholarships and other financial assistance for educational purposes and job training for the spouses and children of fallen firefighters.

Federally chartered corporations are required under 36 U.S.C. §10101 to

- present the corporation’s assets and liabilities and reasonable detail on the corporation’s income and expenses in annual financial statements,

- obtain an annual financial audit by an independent public accountant, and

- submit the auditors’ report and the corporation’s financial statements to the Congress.

The objective of our review was to determine whether the audit reports complied with the financial reporting requirements of the law. In carrying out our work, we reviewed the corporation’s financial statements and the accompanying notes, performed certain analytical procedures related to information presented in the financial statements, and reviewed the auditors’ reports. However, we did not review the auditors’ working papers, and we are not rendering an audit opinion. Our review disclosed no reportable instances of noncompliance with the financial reporting requirements of the law.
The audit reports included the auditors’ opinions that the financial statements of the corporation were presented fairly in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. We are returning the audit reports you sent with your letters.

Sincerely yours,

Jeanette M. Franzel

The General Accounting Office, the audit, evaluation and investigative arm of Congress, exists to support Congress in meeting its constitutional responsibilities and to help improve the performance and accountability of the federal government for the American people. GAO examines the use of public funds; evaluates federal programs and policies; and provides analyses, recommendations, and other assistance to help Congress make informed oversight, policy, and funding decisions. GAO’s commitment to good government is reflected in its core values of accountability, integrity, and reliability.

The fastest and easiest way to obtain copies of GAO documents at no cost is through the Internet. GAO’s Web site (www.gao.gov) contains abstracts and full-text files of current reports and testimony and an expanding archive of older products. The Web site features a search engine to help you locate documents using key words and phrases. You can print these documents in their entirety, including charts and other graphics.

Each day, GAO issues a list of newly released reports, testimony, and correspondence. GAO posts this list, known as “Today’s Reports,” on its Web site daily. The list contains links to the full-text document files. To have GAO e-mail this list to you every afternoon, go to www.gao.gov and select “Subscribe to e-mail alerts” under the “Order GAO Products” heading.

The first copy of each printed report is free. Additional copies are $2 each. A check or money order should be made out to the Superintendent of Documents. GAO also accepts VISA and Mastercard. Orders for 100 or more copies mailed to a single address are discounted 25 percent. Orders should be sent to:
