The Honorable Mike Synar
Chairman, Subcommittee on Environment, Energy, and Natural Resources
Committee on Government
Operations
House of Representatives

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Your September 16, 1986, letter requested that we examine expenditures of the Department of the Interior's Office of the Solicitor to determine how the funds appropriated for fiscal year 1986 were spent. As requested, we concentrated our review efforts on the number of staff assigned to and the amount of funds spent in support of the Office of Surface Mining (OSM). On the basis of your letter and discussions with your office, we agreed to provide you with a fact sheet containing the following information:

- the Solicitor's fiscal year 1986 budget request, as adjusted to reflect actual appropriations, and Gramm-Rudman-Hollings reductions by programs and activities;
- obligations incurred by the Solicitor during fiscal years 1986 and 1985 as compared with the budget request (adjusted to reflect congressional actions);
- detailed accounting information on the obligations for programs and activities by the general expense categories of personnel, other, and overhead;
- the Solicitor's actions regarding the relevant budget and accounting statutes and reprogramming requirements in his disposition of appropriated funds; and
- the number of individuals assigned to Office of Surface Mining cases.

We obtained data on actual obligations incurred for fiscal year 1986 from the accounting system maintained by the Department of the Interior's Office of the Secretary. (See appendixes I and II.) As agreed with your office, we did not evaluate the reliability of the accounting system. However, we did perform limited work to ensure that the data recorded in the accounting system represented obligations of the Office of the Solicitor. Obligation data shown in these appendixes are based on accounting information obtained before the year-end closing process had been completed. Although amounts reflecting any year-end adjustments were not available at the time of our review, we did examine the planned adjustments to determine if any would have a significant effect on the amounts shown in the appendixes. This review disclosed that no significant changes are planned. Specifically, the changes totaled $46,500 and were primarily associated with general administration. The Office of the Solicitor provided the budget data included in the appendixes.

Appendix I shows a comparison of the original budget estimate, adjusted by the Office of the Solicitor to reflect congressional actions, and the actual obligations incurred for fiscal year 1986. Appendix II provides a breakdown of actual obligations by general expense categories--personnel, other, and overhead for the Solicitor's programs and activities. During fiscal year 1986, the Solicitor estimated that about $3.9 million would be spent by the Washington activity to support OSM legal matters. However, the actual obligations incurred were about $2.7 million, or about $1.1 million less than originally estimated. Although the obligations for the Washington activity represent most of the effort spent to support the OSM, other activities relating to OSM matters also had obligations totaling about $135,000 in fiscal year 1986, or about $165,000 less than estimated. The Solicitor and his staff stated that the reason for the spending shortfall is that the legal work load associated with OSM did not warrant the expenditure of additional resources. We are reviewing the work load issue and will report to you later on this matter.

Appendixes III and IV provide similar information on the Solicitor's fiscal year 1985 obligations, as adjusted by that year's closing process. As in fiscal year 1986, the Solicitor's actual fiscal year 1985 obligations relating to the OSM were about $1.1 million less for the Washington activity than the original estimate adjusted for the actual appropriations received.

In fiscal years 1986 and 1985, the Congress provided the Office of the Solicitor lump-sum appropriations. The Solicitor's budget submissions broke down expected obligations by several programs and activities, such as Surface Mining (Washington). However, these appropriations did not specify how the funds must be allocated among the Solicitor's various programs and activities, or require the Solicitor to submit to congressional committees reprogramming requests regarding the distribution of funds contained in the lump-sum appropriations. The Solicitor, therefore, was statutorily free to determine how the funds were to be distributed among the various programs and activities he was authorized to conduct. The House report on the fiscal 1986 appropriation for Interior requested the Solicitor to report quarterly on Office of Surface Mining expenditures and activities, but did not instruct the Solicitor to submit a reprogramming request if the distribution of funds differed from the budget estimate. The Solicitor has submitted three of the reports to the Subcommittee on the Department of the Interior and Related Agencies, House Committee on Appropriations, and is in the process of preparing the fourth-quarter report.

During fiscal year 1986, 82 individuals were assigned to directly support OSM activities; however, not all personnel were assigned for the entire year. This converts to 60.5 full-time equivalent positions, which were directly associated with OSM matters. The Solicitor's staff stated that personnel who provide internal administrative support and who are assigned to the General Administration activity should also be considered in determining the staffing associated with the Solicitor's OSM effort. Such an allocation would increase the staffing by the full-time equivalent of 5 positions to a total of 65.5 positions.

As agreed with your office, we did not obtain official agency comments on a draft of this document. However, we did discuss information contained in this document with the Solicitor's staff. Unless you publicly announce the contents of this report earlier, we plan no further distribution until 30 days from the date of this report. At that time, we will send the report to interested parties and make copies available to others upon request. If you have any questions regarding the contents of this document, please call me on (202) 275-9454.

Sincerely yours,

John F. Simonette
Associate Director

COMPARISON OF BUDGET ESTIMATES TO
ACTUAL OBLIGATIONS FOR FISCAL YEAR 1986

As requested, we have prepared an analysis of the Solicitor's budget submission, adjusted to reflect the actual appropriations received, and the actual obligations incurred. In order to reflect how the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings reductions were allocated among the various programs and activities, we have shown the available funds in two categories. The first column is the effect of specific congressional actions on the Solicitor's budget estimates, while the second shows the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings reductions. The difference between these two columns (column 3) results in the final amount available to the Solicitor.

Note: Totals may not add due to rounding.

Reimbursable agreements reflect decisions to provide services to other federal agencies and other Interior entities. The anticipated obligations associated with these agreements are added to the appropriations received by the Solicitor to determine the total funding available.

The total appropriations available for fiscal year 1985 were $20,562,000.

The total obligations relating to the Office of Surface Mining legal matters during fiscal year 1985 were $2,935,672, which includes $106,079 for obligations relating to activities not included with Surface Mining in Washington. Budget information was not readily available for us to compare the actual obligations to the original budget estimate for Office of Surface Mining matters in Washington with other activities.
